- Woke up early, around 4:45 am. Needed time to check with the boss before my children woke up.
- Discussion with boss ended at 4:58 am. Short assignment this week. Need a new burner phone so no one can trace our conversations. National Security and all.
- Got to school at 6:45. Several students at my door - they ride an early bus.
- Planning second period. Told Ms. White I had to leave for an appointment for an hour. Actually met with my contact and made the exchange via boss' instructions.
- Left school at 4:40 - my son's practice was a little late today. Can't wait for him to have his driver's license.
- Made dinner at 6:00 pm. Helped my daughter with her math homework. NOT! Actually paid my son to help her.
- Crawled into bed at 10:00 pm with a good book.

- Got to school at 6:50am. Left lesson plans on my desk for Substitute. Thankfully, it's the re-ACT day. Students watching on awesome movie. Well, I like it anyway.
- 7:30am talked to my parents and my boyfriend about picking up the kids and getting them to school tomorrow. I should be back by Sat. if all goes well in Georgia.
