

Dr. Decker

I can no longer work under these conditions - we get up so early, we have no more money, we don't have enough teachers for the students at this school. Things cannot continue as they have started. I can't take this anymore.

I have taken your favorite student, Adam, and buried him alive in a secure location, possibly around the school. If you meet my demands in the next 24 hrs then I will tell you where he is. If not, he's dead on your head.

Demands

- 1 - Make all class sizes less than 25 students
- 2 - BRING BACK SMART LUNCH
- 3 - Provide us with a $1000 bonus at the start of each year.

Your response should be put in a green envelope and left on the puzzle table in the teacher's lounge.
